

Kwanzaa Kufi Instructions

- Measure your head with the black strips. Staple or glue two strips together if needed. Cut the strips to fit.
- Take the two yellow strips and make an X.
- Take the two red strips and make an X laying it on top of the yellow strips.
- Take the green strips, make an X and place on top of the red and yellow strips.
- Staple the center of the X's. You should have a star shape.
- Staple or glue the ends of the colored strips to the inside of the black strip of construction paper.

Parent Tip:

- Kwanzaa is a week long celebration held in the United States observed from December 26 to January 1 each year honoring African culture and heritage.
- In West Africa, a kufi cap is a traditional hat, and is part of the national costume of most of the countries in the region.
